MARK LIPSON

DIRECTOR OF FORENSIC ACCOUNTING

Mark Lipson is a skilled chartered accountant, and Director of Forensic Accounting at Hall Chadwick Melbourne. An invaluable member of the company, Mark worked for Hall Chadwick's predecessor for 30 years, including 25 years as a Director, prior to their merger with Hall Chadwick in 2017. A trusted industry leader, Mark specialises in forensic reporting and as an expert witness for litigation matters.

In his role as Director, Mark oversees and actions a wide range of forensic projects, including the preparation of reports for family law settlements, minority shareholder oppression matters, deceased estates, fraud, loss and damage reports for commercial litigation matters, and other financial criminal matters. Mark has successfully led due diligence teams in a large number of acquisitions and consolidations, involving a wide range of industries, for large, private corporations as well as publicly listed companies. A trusted voice in the forensic accounting space, Mark is regularly called upon as an expert witness in the Australian family law and commercial courts, and is a sought after guest speaker at conferences, as well as keynote lecturer for lawyers on forensic accounting and family law matters.

Following his double bachelor's degree of Business and Education (Economics) from Monash University, Mark has continued to expand his qualifications in the accounting sphere. He is a Fellow of CA ANZ, and a member of their Professional Conduct Tribunal. Mark was also a member of VCAT in the Legal Practice List. He has been a qualified commercial arbitrator since 1992, and is an independent board member for a number of organisations. For 20 years, he was an independent director on the board of Aboriginal Housing Victoria (AHV). Mark contributed to helping AHV obtain the title of 1450 residential properties, helping to house one of Victoria's marginalised and disadvantaged communities.

Mark is known for delivering a consistently high standard of work to all of his clients, and is committed to maintaining quality and integrity across all avenues of his work. He highly values both his own and Hall Chadwick's reputation as leading accountants, and strives to uphold these values in all of his professional endeavours.
